

Leading China Telecom Global now supported by BENOCS Analytics

Berlin, Germany – Oct. 16, 2020 – BENOCS GmbH announced today that they, together with MarvelTec, are now supporting China Telecom Global – one of China’s largest carrier networks – with network intelligence and visibility. Implementing BENOCS Analytics provides this carrier with a high performing tool to monitor traffic, trouble shoot failures, seek new business opportunities and more.

China Telekom Global needed an Analytics tool that would provide them with visibility of their IP supply chain to help them fully understand their Internet traffic as well as allow their customers and partners to optimize their performance. The “BENOCS Analytics Tool is straightforward and really easy to use. One tool fits for both network and commercial professions.” Stated a spokesperson for China Telecom Global. “We expect to have more innovative features to help us better optimize our network as well as new IP related products.”

Especially for entities as large as China Telecom Global, having basic visibility is essential, however, having the right visibility makes all the difference. “Having access to powerful data is an absolute necessity for the future of networks.” Stated Stephan Schroeder, BENOCS CEO. “We look forward to supporting China Telekom Global and to bringing value to their network.”
